POKHRAN II CELEBRATION DAY

13-05-2023

Pokhran Day is celebrated in India on May 11th every year. It commemorates the successful nuclear test carried out by India on May 11, 1998, in Pokhran, Rajasthan. The test, code-named Operation Shakti, made India the sixth country in the world to possess nuclear technology.

The Pokhran tests of 1998 consisted of five nuclear tests of advanced weapon designs. The first three tests were conducted simultaneously on May 11 and the other two detonations took place on May 13.

The Pokhran tests had profound implications for India's national security. By establishing itself as a nuclear power, India sent a clear message that it possessed the capabilities to defend its sovereignty against potential threats. 10 NCC cadets participated in poster making presentations and 15 cadets participated in the essay writing competitions held in our college.
